Celebrating on a Large Scale

Moore Footsteps
2008 – 2009

As part of Moore College of Art & Design's 160th Anniversary celebration, Moore alumnae present Moore Footsteps, a city-wide exhibition. The scale provides a broad canvas for alumnae to express who they are as artists and to honor the paths taken by women in art and design.

The concept of the large boot grew from the theme of the 2009 annual alumnae exhibition, Footsteps. The exhibition, on view January 29 – March 15, 2009 in The Galleries at Moore, features alumnae-designed shoes inspired by the paths they follow or forge for others.

Moore College of Art & Design, the nation's first and only women's art college, celebrates 160 years of educating women for careers in the visual arts. In summer 2009, Moore will launch a new coeducational graduate program. The College offers contemporary art exhibitions in The Galleries at Moore, continuing education programs for adults, the Young Artists Workshop for girls and boys grades 1-12 and The Art Shop.
